

A new approach to customized funeral planning

Historically, Canadian funerals had a similar structure and style for everyone

Times are changing

Today, we can do more than honour the individual - we can celebrate their individuality

Here's how:

A Time to Remember

an innovative concept developed to help families personalize their tribute to a loved one

How the concept works

Creating a highly personalized ceremony can be challenging for a family during a difficult time

Discover a simpler way to design a special tribute
