

Declaring and Disclosing Conflict of Interest

The College of Family Physicians of Canada (CFPC) requires that all scientific planning committee members, speakers, moderators, facilitators, and authors complete the Declaration of Conflict of Interest form.

All completed original forms must be retained by the party submitting the program for Mainpro+® certification (referred to herein as the CPD provider or CPD organizer) for a period of one year following certification expiry, so that the forms are available in the event that the program is audited by the CFPC.

Scientific planning committee forms: Completed forms for each scientific planning committee member must be submitted at the time of application for certification (please scan and upload all forms to CERT+).

Speaker, moderator, facilitator, and author forms: These forms must be submitted for all speakers, moderators, facilitators, and authors known at the time of application for certification. If these participants are not known at that time, the forms do not need to be submitted to the CFPC with the application. Completed forms for each speaker, moderator, facilitator, and author must be submitted at the time of ethical review (where applicable) and copies of all conflict of interest forms must be retained by the CPD provider.

A conflict of interest is a set of conditions in which judgement or decisions concerning a primary interest (e.g., a patient's welfare, the validity of research, and/or quality of medical education) is unduly influenced by a secondary interest (personal or organizational benefit including financial gain, academic or career advancement, or other benefits to family, friends, or colleagues).

The basics

- All financial or in-kind relationships with for- and not-for-profit organizations (not only those relevant to the subject being discussed) encompassing the two (2) years up to and including the current presentation, must be declared and disclosed. This applies to all scientific planning committee members, speakers, moderators, facilitators, and authors.
- Speakers, moderators, facilitators, and authors are responsible for ensuring that their presentations, or education materials—and any recommendations—are balanced and reflect the current scientific literature. The only caveat to this guideline is where there is only one treatment or management strategy. Unapproved use of products or services must be declared within the presentation.
- Disclosure must be made verbally and also displayed in writing at the beginning of a presentation or included in the written conference materials.
- The conflict of interest declaration forms must be completed and submitted to the CPD program's provider or organizer prior to the start date of the event or program.
- The scientific planning committee is responsible for reviewing all disclosed financial relationships of speakers, moderators, facilitators and authors in advance of the CPD activity to determine whether action is required to manage potential or real conflicts of interest. The scientific planning committee must also have procedures in place to be followed if a conflict of interest comes to its attention prior to or during the CPD activity.

- Any individual who fails to disclose their relationship(s) as described below cannot participate as a member of the scientific planning committee, speaker, moderator, facilitator, or author of a Mainpro+ certified activity.

How to complete the Mainpro+ Declaration of Conflict of Interest form

There are two parts to the form:

- Part 1 must be completed by all scientific planning committee members, speakers, moderators, facilitators, and authors
- Part 2 must be completed by all speakers, moderators, facilitators, and authors

Examples of relationships that must be disclosed include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Any direct financial or in-kind interest in a for- or not-for-profit entity such as a pharmaceutical organization, medical device company, communications firm, government agency, charitable organization, patient advocacy group, research groups, or other sources of financial and in-kind relationships (the organization) relevant to the CPD activity content or development
- Investments held in the organization
- Membership in the organization's advisory board or similar committee
- Current or recent participation in a clinical trial sponsored by the organization
- Membership in a speakers' bureau
- Patent holder for a product referred to in the CPD activity or marketed by the organization
- Receiving honoraria to speak on behalf of a for- or not-for-profit organization, including talks for which the individual has been contracted but has not yet received payment

False disclosure of or a failure to disclose a conflict of interest as outlined in this document could require the scientific planning committee to replace the speakers, moderators, facilitators, and authors.

Completed forms must be returned to the CPD program provider or organizer, not directly to the CFPC.
